PART I: Publicly Available Program Performance and Candidate Achievement Data

1. Overview and Context

This overview describes the mission and context of the educator preparation provider and the programs included in its AAQEP review.

Wheeling Jesuit University, currently Wheeling University, was founded in 1954 as the only Catholic university in the state of West Virginia and one of only 28 Jesuit institutions in the United States. A culture of performance, respect, and cooperation among our people in the Catholic tradition of cura personalis (care and respect for each person) is aligned with the mission of Wheeling University: Educating men and women for life, leadership, and service with and among others.

The Wheeling University Bachelor of Arts in Education program is designed for undergraduate students seeking teacher licensure in the following areas:

- Elementary Education (Grades K-6)

- English (Grades 5-Adult)
- General Science (Grades 5-Adult)
- Mathematics (Grades 5-Adult)
- Multi-Categorical Special Education (Grades K-6 and Grades 5-Adult)
- Multi-Categorical Special Education Endorsement (Grades K-6 and Grades 5-Adult)
- Social Studies (Grades 5-Adult)

A goal of the Undergraduate Education Preparation program is to provide opportunities for teacher candidates to be effective classroom teachers, to prepare teacher candidates who can think creatively and critically in developing and delivering instructional content, utilizing formative and summative assessments as well as the latest educational technologies for teaching and learning, and to recognize the needs of a diverse population. These opportunities are enhanced through the long and successful history of working collaboratively with PreK-12 schools. Teacher candidates experience hands on encounters with PreK-12 students starting in their first education course in the program. The Education Teacher Preparation program prepares candidates for meaningful careers in the field of education. Completers demonstrate an understanding of content knowledge, pedagogy, a commitment to student learning, the ability to work collaboratively to encourage student learning, and critically examine their teaching practices to promote self-improvement.

Through the gained wisdom of practice, Wheeling University teacher candidates are prepared to become reflective, lifelong learners, who are skilled at designing and implementing instruction to promote a positive learning environment to meet the individual and group needs of a diverse population.

West Virginia Department of Education Alternative Certification Program:

The Wheeling University Education Department was named as a provider of coursework for the West Virginia Department of Education Alternative Certification Program. The West Virginia Board of Education has established and adopted this program pursuant to West Virginia §18A-3-1j. The focus of this program is to provide an additional pathway to teacher certification to help decrease the shortage of teachers in West Virginia.

Twenty-six teacher candidates participated in our course offerings for the West Virginia Department of Education: Alternative Certification Program during the 2024-2025 school year.

The Wheeling University Master of Arts in Education: Education Leadership program prepares candidates for meaningful leadership careers in the field of education. Candidates demonstrate professional knowledge, know how to learn and use technology appropriately, use strategic decision making skills, and demonstrate caring leadership skills. The two strands of this one-year, total-immersion, online, problem-based, graduate residency program are School and System Leadership and Instructional Leadership. The School and School System Leadership pathways lead to Principal, Supervisor of Instruction, and Superintendent certification. This theory-to-practice model of instruction, consistent with the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (PSEL) and International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) standards, is a collaborative effort in which the primary focus of training is moved from the University to PreK-12 schools.

During the residency year, PreK-12 host schools serve as “laboratory” schools. The educator resident is paired with a teacher leader or administrator employed in the host school system. This Instructional Coach is offered compensation and/or release time as determined by the partnership between the school system and Wheeling University.

The two summer sessions provide educator residents with intensive course work designed to lay the foundation for the classroom experience. During the academic year, educator residents work closely with Instructional Coaches. Educator residents collaborate with other educators in the school or school system.

The final session involves scholarly reflection on the residency experience, completion of the course work, continuation of learning skills and strategies needed to be highly effective educators, completion of an action research project, and completion of the professional portfolio that serves as a compendium demonstrating the skills they have acquired.

Educator residents learn from some of the best educators in the state and region, from their Instructional Coaches, from their course instructors, and from each other. They gain a combination of classroom experience, mentoring, theory, and practical skills. Individuals accepted into this program must be self-directed and motivated learners. They receive support and feedback from colleagues to become part of a professional learning community. Additionally, the program relies on experienced and committed instructors who are current or former school administrators.

Through the gained wisdom of practice, Wheeling University leadership candidates are prepared to become reflective, lifelong learners, who are skilled at making instructional and leadership decisions to meet the individual and group needs of a diverse population.

The ACT program provides an online pathway to teacher certification in Grades 5-Adult. The program is designed for those who currently serve as emergency, temporary, or substitute teachers and desire formal teaching credentials, those looking to transition into a second career, and those desiring add-on endorsements and/or renewal credits. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree or higher to enroll and student teaching is a requirement. The program is accessible to adult learners who often have their education interrupted by life events. Our commitment to accessibility yields a high success rate when completion is not time bound.

Many students eligible for the ACT program have been accepted into the West Virginia Department of Education Alternative Certification program.

*Education candidates may be exempt from the Core Academic Skills for Educators provided they meet exemption criteria listed in the West Virginia Licensure Testing Directory.

Elementary education candidates must obtain a passing score in each subsection of the 5001: Elementary Education: Multiple Subjects or the 7811: Elementary Education: Content Knowledge for Teaching (CKT). Elementary education candidates may combine sections from both tests (5001 and 7811) to satisfy this requirement. Successful completion of each subsection on either exam is required to obtain a student teaching permit.

 Per WVDE Policy 5100, EPPs with a secondary 5-Adult WVBE-approved program of study in mathematics or general science may recommend candidates for 5-9 licensure if a candidate has completed all 5-Adult program requirements, completed a middle school clinical experience, and obtained a passing score on the 5-9 required Praxis exam.

*Per the West Virginia Licensure Testing Directory, candidates who completed an approved Teacher Performance Assessment (TPA) as part of a WVDE-approved educator preparation program after July 12, 2023, are exempt from the PTL requirement.

The Education Department has created a computer lab in the education suite to support teacher candidates as they prepare for the Praxis exams. Candidates are able to use the computer lab to take Praxis exams. This intervention helps to support the first-time passing rate on Praxis exams for students. A Praxis Prep study group is held each week to support students in taking the Praxis exams.

The Education Preparation Teaching Program Completer Survey was completed by five 2024-2025 completers currently serving as classroom teachers and two 2024-2025 teacher candidate completers who are pursuing graduate school and one serving as a graduate assistant.

According to our Education Preparation Teaching Program Completer Survey, the results show that the mean is above 3 on the given criterion for the AAQEP Expectations. The scale is 4-Distinguished 3-Accomplished 2-Emerging 1-Unsatisfactory. Given that the Criteria for Success is an overall average score of 2 (Emerging), we proudly acknowledge that our completers rate themselves as being capable to serve as classroom teachers.

The Completers indicate a 3.61 mean with their understanding of culture and methods of teaching. This topic is ever changing in our world today. Further review of the program on providing further instruction will be put forth for discussion in department meetings and the Educator Program Provider Advisory Council meetings.

Per WVDE Policy 5100, EPPs with a secondary 5-Adult WVBE-approved program of study in mathematics or general science may recommend candidates for 5-9 licensure if a candidate has completed all 5-Adult program requirements, completed a middle school clinical experience, and obtained a passing score on the 5-9 required Praxis exam.*

Summary: The teacher candidates pursuing employment were successful upon graduation.

- I. Explanation of how the staffing capacity for program delivery and administration and quality assurance system monitoring have changed during the reporting year, if at all, and how capacity matches the current size of the program.

Staffing has remained consistent throughout the reporting year, ensuring stability in both program delivery and quality assurance processes. The current team continues to effectively meet the needs of the program's enrollment and scope, allowing for consistent oversight, mentoring, and support of candidates. This continuity has strengthened communication, maintained institutional knowledge, and supported ongoing improvement efforts.

Additionally, the advising process is a collaborative effort designed to support students' academic and professional success. Each semester, students meet with their advisor to review their academic progress, discuss course selections, and plan for upcoming semesters. During these meetings, we also talk about grades, Praxis test preparation and requirements, and any other goals or concerns students may have to ensure they stay on track for program completion.

4. Candidate Academic Performance Indicators

Tables 3 and 4 report on select measures (3 to 5 measures for each standard) of candidate/completer performance related to AAQEP Standards 1 and 2, including the program's expectations for performance (criteria for success) and indicators of the degree to which those expectations are met.

5. Notes on Progress, Accomplishment, and Innovation

This section describes program accomplishments, efforts, and innovations (strengths and outcomes) to address challenges and priorities over the past year.

Undergraduate Education Teacher Preparation Program

Progress:

- The Director of Education Programs participates in the monthly West Virginia Department of Education Office of Certification virtual meetings to discuss the latest updates to the West Virginia Licensure Testing Directory.
- The West Virginia Licensure Directory is a listing of all WVBE-required licensure exams for educator certification and for completion of West Virginia Board of Education approved programs leading to West Virginia licensure. This directory is maintained on the WVDE website.

- The West Virginia Licensure Testing Directory also lists the exemptions for Praxis I and Praxis II exams. These exemptions are shared with the Education Majors as they prepare for their student teaching/residency placements.
- A computer lab has been created in the Education Department suite where teacher candidates are able to take practice Praxis exams. This intervention helps to support the first-time passing rate on Praxis exams for students. Seven additional laptops are now available for student use.
- A Praxis Prep study group is held weekly to support students taking any Praxis exam.
- Education majors seeking certification in Multi-Categorical Special Education may also complete two courses in Autism that will help them receive Autism certification once they receive their West Virginia Multi-Categorical Special Education teaching certification.
- The following professional learning sessions were offered to all teacher candidates during the 2024-2025 school year:
 - Co-Teaching
 - Trauma and Learning
 - Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR): A Suicide Prevention Training
 - West Virginia Teacher Performance Assessment and Instructional Strategies
 - Cultural Competence
 - Mandatory Reporting
 - Professional Communication (multiple sessions)
 - Engagement Strategies (monthly)
- Membership in the West Virginia Association of School Administrators (WVASA) provides current information about state licensure, policies, procedures, and professional development.

Accomplishments:

- The Association for Advancing Quality in Educator Preparation awards full accreditation to the Wheeling University Education Program for excellence in educator preparation valid December 2022 – December 2029.
- The Wheeling University Education Department faculty and students attended the 2025 West Virginia Reading Conference, where they will gain new insights, strategies, and inspiration to bring to their future classrooms.
- Wheeling University partnered with the West Virginia Department of Education and a partnering school system, Brooke County Schools, to be a participant in the West Virginia Grow Your Own (WV GYO) program. The WV GYO program allows high school students to begin a career path in education studies. The program was created to address the teacher shortage in West Virginia. WV GYO supports high school students who want to become classroom teachers as they complete dual enrollment courses in partnership with Institutions of Higher Education.
- The Wheeling University Educator Preparation program relies on experienced and committed instructors who are current or former school administrators as well as National Board Certified teachers.

Innovation:

- The Wheeling University Education Department received a 2024-2025 Residency Competitive Grant from the West Virginia Department of Education in the amount of $2,750 to support the student teaching process.
- The Wheeling University Education Department has received a total of $43,138.00 grant funds from the HESS FAMILY FOUNDATION to offer the Help Enrich Someone Special (H.E.S.S.) Mentoring Program for the 2023-2026 Spring semesters. The H.E.S.S. Mentoring Program focused on S.T.E.A.M. (Science-Technology-Engineering-Art-Mathematics) education. Twelve students from Grade 7 at a partnering school system, Wheeling Middle School in Ohio County Schools, meet on Wednesdays for ten weeks on the campus of Wheeling University. Exposing the middle school students to the activities aligned with S.T.E.A.M. education supported their learning experience as a middle school student. Additionally, the Program provided teacher candidates with the opportunity to engage with middle school students in an informal setting. This gave our teacher candidates a foundation that fosters communication and understanding of student needs and recognition of student strengths. The 2025-2026 school year will be the third year Wheeling University received the grant.
- Our Education Program hosts a Pop-Up PD session once a month focused on student engagement for both professors and education students. These short, interactive sessions are designed to share practical instructional strategies that can be applied into the classrooms. Each month highlights a different engagement technique, and the goal is to build a collaborative culture of learning and spark fresh ideas for keeping students actively involved and learn alongside their professors.
- Our department is participating in the Bridge to Teaching initiative through the West Virginia Department of Education. This pathway provides an opportunity for Aides and EECCATS (Early Childhood Classroom Assistant Teachers) to earn their teaching degrees and licensure while continuing to work in a school. Through this partnership, we aim to support career advancement for current school employees, address teacher shortages, and strengthen the pipeline of educators across the state.

Update on Activities to Investigate Data Quality

Data quality investigations are essential to work across the standards. This section documents activities in the 2024-25 reporting year related to ensuring data quality.

During the 2024-2025 reporting season, the Wheeling University Education Department collaborated with core curriculum faculty to ensure that the foundational courses support the candidate preparation for the Praxis licensure exams. Core faculty evaluated their course objectives, alignment, and assessments against the Praxis standards to confirm alignment with the knowledge and skills expected of future educators. These discussions included a review of course content and how the core content reinforces competencies measured on the Praxis exams. This ensures that all candidates are better prepared for licensure assessments.

Our Education Department maintains strong and purposeful relationships with partnerships with local schools to provide authentic learning experiences for teacher candidates. These partnerships are built on collaboration and shared goals for our program. Each instructor for a course that requires field experience hours, and the instructor serves as the liaison. The liaison maintains open communications with mentor teachers and administrators to ensure that coursework and field experiences are well aligned with current classroom practices. To support the AAQEP standards, each mentor teacher completes a rubric using the following example criteria.

Criteria/ Student Performance	1	2	3	4
The student behaved professionally.
The student demonstrated cooperation and a willingness to work and learn.
The student demonstrated responsibility, interest, and initiative.
Within the limits of the context, the field student developed a positive rapport with your students.

This rubric serves as an authentic data tool to help guide feedback and ensures candidates meet specific program and state expectations.

Additionally, our partnerships extend beyond observation and field experiences placements. Two of our collaborating teachers, who also serve as instructors for our program, are training in the LETRS (Language Essentials for Teachers of Reading and Spelling). Our students observe in their classrooms learning the current, evidenced-based literacy practices. These intentional partnerships demonstrate our commitment to community collaboration, continuous improvement, and student success. These dual roles enrich both the coursework we provide and the field experience by grounding students in the realities of daily teaching.

Each semester, the Education Department, meets with mentor teachers that host our student teachers to ensure clear communication and a clear understanding of the expectations by providing each guiding teacher with a student-teaching handbook. Mentor teachers receive guidance on how to use the rubric, and consistent feedback is maintained through the entirety of the placement. This process ensures that we all work together to support a high-quality, well-structured student teaching experience. By maintaining partnerships and close relationships, we are creating a seamless connection between university teacher education preparation and classroom practice.

Our WV Teacher Performance Assessment (WVTPA) Process is closely aligned with the Comprehensive Assessment of Program Assessment (CAPA) report to ensure an alignment between candidate performance data and program improvement efforts. The indicators and the rubrics in the WVTPA directly correspond to the standards evaluated in the CAPA, allowing for consistent measurement of teaching effectiveness. Additionally, we provide ongoing professional development for faculty and pre-service teachers that are grounded in evidence-based practices. These sessions are selected based on current trends and best instructional practices to ensure that data-driven decisions are continuously being made.
